the capitalist and robs themselves? Should it not be the duty of the law makers to devise some measures to protect the interest of the common people and require the execution of the law to see they are enforced? Such robbery, sanctioned by our authorities, has no precedent. In conclusion, Mr. "Citizen," I am unable to pay you full value unless we had you identified. You remind me of bloody Jim, the Rip-roaring Snorter of the Rockies. "Hand down your cash, Mr. Banker." The bank teller only informed Jim that all he said might be true but he would require someone to identify him. Will you please do the same, sir, as it is a similar case, and remember, we are not expecting any meritorious demonstrations by anyone, and count us as standing for right and justice in the administration of law towards all.

If the Sentinel will copy this I promise to support Mayes for chief provided an allotment candidate does not come out.

Truly Yours, J. K. CLINGMAN.

"CLASS LEGISLATION."

Mr. Editor:—J. F. Kenworthy,

the writer of the "quack" letter in your last issue in regard to the medical law is one of the few who are opposing the best law the national council ever passed. What we want is doctors and not quacks—men who lived in the states, dreamed they were doctors, borrowed enough money to buy a pair of saddle bags and tramped into the territory to practice their profession. We soon see a sign, "Dr. so and so, from so and so," and the people are ignorant whether or not he is a doctor. Because it is not far and to save a little money we go to the quack and the consequence is the patients get from bad to worse until we see death strike them. Then we go for one we know is a doctor; but it is too late. That is why I say this the best law passed. The cattle law may kill our cattle, the blood bill may leave out part of our citizens, the mineral law may rob our people, but we must protect our lives and the lives of our families. How many of us have sat by the bed side of a little one till the last breath was gone because we depended upon a quack and went after the doctor too late. He asks what difference it makes to the corpse whether he is a doctor or not. It's the most unreasonable expression I ever read, but as it comes from one of the so-called quacks I will leave it for the people to consider. He says, "let the people decide who are competent to be called doctors." My dear people, how many of us feel competent to say who shall take a friend in charge when life is at stake? We do not want that responsibility, but we do want a law to protect us from quacks. I do not say the law is perfect, but using the words of Joel B., "It was the best in sight." Now, my dear quacks, if you can not comply with our law, go to school, be good boys, obey your teacher and you will soon be competent to pass an examination and then we will welcome you back and you may save many lives as you have let die by not being able to do your duty. Then, and then alone, will God forgive you.

Bluejacket Union No. 170: President, D. A. Henley; Secretary, J. O. Hill.

Silas Armstrong, of Grand river, organized a union last Thursday night at Duncan school house.

D. M. Marrs and C. D. Smith went over last Friday to attend the Delaware district Union at Adair.

There is need for some work over in the Henry Payne neighborhood near Sulphur Springs. A union could be established there that would get such material as is needed by the Alliance.

There seems to be peace and watchfulness all along the line of the Alliance in Delaware district and all are determined success shall be theirs.

THE CHIEFTAIN takes off its hat to the Alliance of Delaware district and in the words of Uncle Joel desires to say: You stick to us and we will stick to you.

All of the "old foggy" politicians need not think they can fool the Alliance into supporting them through the next campaign by forming themselves into an independent party, thereby attempting to hide their dirt. They are watching all of you from both parties.

All sub-unions are required during the present month to elect delegates to the April meeting of the county union, the representation being one delegate to every ten members or majority fraction thereof. The various unions will confer a favor by sending a list of their delegates to this office as soon as elected.

Logan sub-union, No. 118, Delaware district, passed a resolution that Texas cattle would not be allowed within her bounds if reasonable means could prevent it; that every citizen in the Cherokee nation knew his lawful portion of the country and as they were the lawful occupants of that portion of the nation it was theirs, and they respectfully ask all who are interested in Texas cattle to keep them in their portion of the nation.

Notice to Sub Unions

Caddo, I. T., March 10th, 1891.

All sub unions in the Indian Territory are requested to pay in their next county meeting their five cent per capita dues (national dues) for 1891 which are now just due, to their respective county secretaries. All sub-unions not working under the jurisdiction of county secretaries will please send said dues direct to the territorial secretary.

D. S. IVINS,

Secretary-Treasurer, I. U.

The County Meeting:
Caddo, I. T., March 10th, 1891.

Notice to sub unions of F. A. & I. U. in Coweeseoowee district: The next meeting of Coweeseoowee district or county order will be held in the city of Claremore, I. T., beginning at 7 p. m. on the second Tuesday of April, 1891, the same being the 14th of the month. All sub unions in the district are requested to send delegates and report as per constitution of the order.

J. F. KENWORTHY, Sec.

Flax not Always Profitable.

"Greenbrier" Joe Martin sends us the following letter from his brother Dan, living at Versailles, Mo., in regard to the flax crop which may prove interesting at this time:
DEAR BROTHER:— * * * You said that you wanted to know something about flax. My experience is that it does not pay all seasons. More men now and lose than make anything out of it. Clean land is the best for it; weedy land is not good for this crop; it should be sown early for seed. It is a hard thing to harvest; it wastes so that it loses the profit in running over it in cutting, as it tends out very easily. Then, if the thrasher does not understand it there is more waste. Once in a while there is money in flax.

Resolutions by Vinita Union.

Whereas, The primary object of all laws enacted by any government, should be to confer equal rights to all citizens under said government; and

Whereas, The late council of the Cherokee nation has seen proper to legislate entirely in the interest and for the benefit of a few to the neglect of the many;

Resolved, That this Union denounce the mineral law passed by last council whereby our mineral lands can be tied up for a term of twenty years to rich mining corporations, to the exclusion of the poorer classes, and that we are not so lost to a sense of right and justice as to approve of such deliberate and willful spoliation of our common property and interest.

Resolved, That we respectfully ask the treasurer of this nation not to approve said leases, believing them to be the very worst species of class legislation.

Delaware District Union.

Alliance and Industrial Union met in special session at Adair sub-union No 134, March 12th. About all of the district officers were present, the esteemed and efficient president, J. D. Taylor, presiding. There was considerable time consumed on the admission of the delegates from the Adair, the lodge at that place having only recently received, and instead of settling with the territorial secretary. It was finally adjusted by taking their receipt from D. S. Ivins in lieu of the amount due the district. The committee appointed to investigate the case of the district secretary, Dr. A. H. Collins, against whom charges had been preferred, made their report and it was decided they were of so frivolous a nature that he was immediately reinstated.

The committee on the good of the order presented the following resolutions which was unanimously adopted:
Resolved, that it is the sense of this body that the organization of a separate state Alliance, as was attempted at Tahlequah on the 13th ult., was a movement detrimental to the order in this nation and that we repudiate said action, and consider it as being the part of a few designing politicians to capture the Alliance in their own interest in the coming campaign.

That we endorse and commend THE INDIAN CHIEFTAIN in the stand it has taken in exposing the great fraud that a few men were trying to perpetrate upon the Alliance. The minutes of the last stated meeting were read and endorsed.

J. W. Adair was elected as editor for Delaware district.

Rev. W. S. Browning elected district lecturer, the lecturer having resigned.

The meeting closed most harmoniously, the members feeling a deeper interest in each and in the maintenance of the order than ever before.

There was a communication read from A. H. Nuttall, territorial president, stating that he had written to Frank Howard to cease organizing; that he (Howard) was without authority from him and that while he (Nuttall) was president of that territory, he would protect it. Another from the president of Arkansas, saying: "I have no organizers in the territory, and if there are any claiming to be from here they are acting without authority. I do not propose to work outside of my own state."

Now that the Cherokees are awakening and abusing past legislation and proposing new, the following from the American Non-conformist, is appropriate:

It may grind you a little to know it, but the centralization of wealth into a few hands, and the consequent impoverishment of the masses, was brought about by the application of a financial policy blindly fostered by your voters. Daring plutocrats is all right, but plutocrats are the product of law; and who made the laws? This paper would like to have you show it a law that wasn't enacted by a body of men elected by popular vote. If you will go it blind, politically, stop grumbling at results. Come, own your children. They may look tough, but they are yours, and when you are able to conform your political actions to the rules of good common sense, you'll be able to raise a better breed.

Let's try it once and keep an eye out for the demagogue.
